Impact of Work-Life Balance on Employee Engagement of Dual Career Couples in the Banking Sector

Rankapuge, J. K. K. and Jayasinghe, J. A. C. B.

The main focus of this study was to identify the impact of work-life balance on employee engagement of dual career couples in the banking sector Sri Lanka. And also research was designed to investigate the relationship between work-life balance and employee engagement of dual career couples in the banking sector. In this study, the concept “work-life balance” was covered from three dimensions; personality, job stress and spousal support. A standard questionnaire was used to collect data for the study. The participants were non-executive staff members of selected domestic licensed commercial banks in Colombo region. The final sample consisted with 84 non-executive staff members covering both state and private banks and it was represented by Fifty Four percent (54%) females and Forty Six percent (46%) males whose spouse is full time employed. The research findings were analyzed by using statistical analysis methods. The findings of the study revealed that there is a significant impact of work-life balance on employee engagement of dual career couples in the banking sector Sri Lanka. And also findings revealed a positive significant relationship between work-life balance and employee engagement of dual career couples in the banking sector. Further it was found that the work-life balance dimensions; personality, job stress and spousal support has a significant impact on employee engagement of dual career couples in the banking sector. These findings provide evidence that work-life balance plays an important role in achieving employee engagement in an organization.

Keywords: Work-Life Balance, Employee Engagement, Dual Career Couples