This project was certainly assisted as in my future work...
 I was fortunate to have Professor Sumanth Dias Bandulaengage, an erudite scholar with an international reputation as my supervisor. He advised, encouraged and directed me to conduct my research on my own. It has also been a privilege for me to have the help of Dr. P. H. H. de Silva, the retired Director of National Museum in Sri Lanka with more than 30 years of service in the museum field and who also is the author of 'A CATALOGUE OF ANTIQUITIES AND OTHER ORIGINAL OBJECTS FROM SRI LANKA (Ceylon) BEFORE' to bring this dissertation to a scholarly level.

In the end I wish to express my gratitude to Professor P. H. H. de Silva of the Science Department of the UNIVERSITY OF COLUMBIA for the assistance given to write an inaugural dissertation. My scientific knowledge of Sri Lanka
